STATE OF MAINE.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Augusta, Nov. 12 1858.

An adjourned session of the Executive Council will be held at the Council Chamber, in Augusta, on Wednesday, the fifteenth day of December next. Attest,

NOAH SMITH, Jr.,
Secretary of State.

DOUGLAS'S POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY. The St. Louis Democrat, in an article which we publish below, shows clearly the kind of popular sovereignty which is advocated by Mr. Douglas. Although proclaiming himself as par excellence the author and exponent of the popular sovereignty doctrine, he yet in practice nullifies the whole theory. For, while denying to Congress the right to prohibit slavery in the Territories, he admits substantially that the Supreme Court, (another branch of the government,) may intervene, and by its constitutional constructions, which he says are not to be controverted or overthrown (and which he does not propose to reverse) carry slavery into the Territories against the will of the sovereigns. This is Mr. Douglas's position; and it is useless for him or for his friends to endeavor to shift off the burden of the inconsistency by declaring that the Territorial Legislatures may nevertheless so legislate or fail to legislate as that slavery cannot exist. This would be a practical nullification of the decision of the Supreme Court; and would also allow a legislative body created by Congress to do what is denied to Congress itself the power of doing. If the decision of the dictum of the Supreme Court, on this subject, is right, as we understand Mr. Douglas to say it is—then we do not perceive how any Territorial Legislature can be allowed to nullify it. If slavery is carried into the Territories by the force of the Constitution,—if "Kansas is as much a Slave State as Georgia or South Carolina," by force of the Constitution, then are the Territorial or National Governments bound to protect slavery there—and there is no popular sovereignty about it.

[From the St. Louis Democrat.]

Assuming as the primary position, which Judge Douglas does, that the people of Kansas, or Nebraska, or Utah, have the right to shape their own domestic institutions, it is not possible that he can consistently recognise the exercise of any extraneous power controlling them will. Accordingly, he takes ground in favor of non-intervention by Congress, and upon that he rests chiefly his claim to popular sympathy. But why does he stop there?—Why does the self-appointed champion of the people halt in the very breach, and surrender to one power what he denies to another?—Why, in short, does he not also take ground in behalf of non-intervention by the other co-ordinate branches of the Federal Government—the President and the Supreme Court? It may be said that he does oppose Executive interference. Well, be it so. But how is it about non-interference by the Supreme Court? The opponents of Mr. Douglas in Illinois have taken ground in favor of such non-intervention. Mr. Lincoln opposes heartily the extra-judicial decision of the Supreme Court, which would frame articles for the government of the Territories, and for that very opposition he receives the denunciations of Mr. Douglas and the abuse of his followers. Why is this?—We are not quarrelling with the decisions of the Supreme Court. Let with issue, and let them be enforced. But, as Mr. Douglas says that when Congress sets itself up to take legislation out of the hands of the people of the Territories, and make them free or slave, at its discretion, it violates the fundamental liberties of the American citizen; assuming the same reasoning, so we say that when the Supreme Court sets itself up to take legislation out of the hands of the people of the Territories, and make them free or slave at its option, it violates the fundamental liberties of American citizens.

This conflict with popular supremacy is equally as direct, whether Congress legislates or the Supreme Court interprets Slavery, in or out of a Territory; and if Mr. Douglas recognises this power in the Supreme Court—the power to override and anticipate the verdict of the people—what and wherein is the merit of his great dogma of non-intervention by Congress?

Upon the language of Mr. Douglas, we should resent Congressional intervention in such shapes as the Ordinance of 1787 and the Wilmot Proviso, as being anticipatory of the determination of the expressed will of the people, or what light shall we regard intervention by the Supreme Court, precluding any action of the people regarding their domestic policy?

NEW METHOD OF MAKING A NOMINATION.—The Republican Executive Committee of Manchester, N. H., after a full discussion of the subject, have decided that the nomination of the Republican candidate for Mayor, for the ensuing election, be made on the Saturday evening previous to the election, and that the vote be taken in each of the eight wards, instead of a general caucus. The secretary of each ward is to make an official statement of the vote to the chairman of the Executive Committee immediately after the counting of the vote, and the person having the plurality of the entire vote is to be declared the candidate of the party.

EASY METHOD OF CORRECTING INTEREST.—The Detroit Advertiser gives a new method of computing interest on any number of dollars at 6 per cent. which appears simple. Separate the right hand figure by a point, and the figures on the left hand of this separating point will be the interest in cents for six days—the figure on the right of the point, decimals of a cent. Multiply the whole amount by five to find the interest for thirty days, and this sum by two for sixty days, three for ninety days, &c. For any number of days less than six, take the fractional part of the interest for six. Care must be taken to separate the right hand figure of the dollars, whether there be cents and mills in the given sum or not.

New Publications.

THE CONSERVATIVE. Also Monthly. Vol. 2, No. 1, has been issued and is just received.—It is published quarterly at the low price of 50 per annum, and each subscriber receives a copy of a splendid engraving each year, and an interest in an annual distribution of magnificent paintings, several hundred in number. The engraving this year is a proof impression (about 24 by 30 inches in size) from Herring's celebrated painting "The Village Blacksmith," and is richly worth more than the whole subscription price to the Art Journal. The Journal itself contains full and interesting biographical notices and portraits of distinguished artists and literary personages—and fine engravings of different productions of art, besides a splendid line engraving (full page size) entitled "Cleopatra Applying the Asp," and an exquisite picture, also full page, of "The First Pair of Boots."

The Art Journal is published by the Cosmopolitan Art Association, whose eastern office is at 548 Broadway, N. Y. The present is the fifth year of its existence, and it now has its members in almost every city and town in the United States, and has been eminently successful in its efforts to create a general appreciation and a love of Art, by means of a wide distribution of its higher productions.

D. M. HOWARD, Esq., is the Honorary Secretary of the Association for this city—to whom application should be made previous to the 1st of January by those who desire an interest in this year's distribution of paintings. Some of the most splendid pictures which adorn the saloons of our citizens have been received from these distributions, and we hope many more will be received.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK. The December No. of this excellent magazine is promptly received as usual. It contains fifty-one engravings, seventeen full length figures of fashion, sixty articles and one hundred pages. "Christmas for the Rich" and "Christmas for the Poor" are the titles of the two fine steel engravings in this number. The pattern of the "editorial slipper," printed in colors, is such as would splendidly adorn the understandings of editors.

DISCOVERY OF A COUNTERFEITERS' ESTABLISHMENT. On Thursday last, the New York detectives tracked a suspected specie peddler, (who for some months has supplied brokers and others with coin) into a house in Brooklyn; and obtaining entrance, arrested the inmates, Mr and Mrs Edward Edwards, Edward Cook and Samuel James. The house was searched. In the basement the officers found a model mint for the manufacture of bogus coin. In one corner was a splendidly finished lathe; in another, a press for making impressions. In the closets were found finely cut dies for gold dollars, two dollar and a half, quarter dollars, five and ten cent pieces. In crucibles over the furnace was a quantity of molten stuff used in making the coin. In other places were found bogus coin in a finished and unfinished state, to the amount of about $500. Under the work benches were bundles of a thin metal, having the appearance of bezelle.

From these strips, which were four inches broad and two feet in length, had been punched pieces exactly the size of a gold dollar, and so cut as to be ready to receive the impression. The gold dollars finished were dated 1824; the $2,50 gold pieces 1850; the quarter dollars 1858, and the ten cent pieces the same date. With the lathe the counterfeiters manufactured their own dies, as pieces of steel used for such purposes were found in the apparatus in a half finished state. The dies for the coins above mentioned were all well cut, and some of the coins, gold and silver so perfectly made as to baffle detection. The weights of the respective gold and silver coins corresponded with genuine coin.

WHAT IS CONSERVATIVE? MR. HAMMOND IS "SECTIONAL" IN MR. SEWARD. The Democratic organs stigmatize Mr. Seward's Rochester speech as "a brutal and bloody manifesto"—in reply to which the Providence Journal justly remarks:

It is not anything that he has said that has excited all this affected indignation. It is because the course of events has made Mr. Seward more prominent than ever before, and more formidable to the Democrats.

Mr. Hammond can say in South Carolina that he is in favor of slavery, every where, and there is no complaint made; Mr. Seward says that he is in favor of freedom every where, and it is a "brutal and bloody manifesto." Mr. Hammond says that he is in favor of the Union so long as it can be made to subserve the purposes of the South, and he is eminently conservative. Mr. Seward says that he is in favor of substituting free labor for slavery in strict accordance with law and with the popular will, and he is "sectional." It is not what Mr. Seward says that form the argument against him, but what his opponents are determined to charge upon him, whether he says it or not.

A TERRIBLE SITUATION. The wife of a respectable citizen in Philadelphia, during an attack of severe illness, imagined that the house was haunted, and, while laboring under this hallucination, she ascended to the garret, and proceeded to the dormer window and raised the sash. Her husband followed quickly and caught her by the dress just as she was about to make the fatal leap into the street below. She struggled very desperately, and fearing that her clothing might give way, her husband caught her by the hair, and then hallooed as loudly as his lungs would allow. By this time the poor woman got partly over the eaves, with one foot resting on the gutter skirting the roof. The husband's cries for help brought a policeman to his assistance, and the poor woman was saved from a horrible death.

SALE OF THE TREMONT HOUSE. This valuable property was sold at auction in the Merchant's Exchange on Saturday, by Joseph L. Bonshaw. The attendance was very large.—The property consists of 320 shares in a par value of $100 each, and is subject to two mortgages, one of $5,500, and one of $5000. It is leased to Parke Stevens for $10,500 a year, until August, 1862. The property was sold with the incumbrances, to William W. Kent, at $41.50 per share, payable and transferable Jan. 1, 1859. This is $133,280 for the whole estate, or about $10 a foot, ground measurement, and, with the incumbrances, about 31 per cent. on the whole valuation of the estate.

The corner stone of the Tremont House was laid July 4, 1828. Boston Advertiser.

LOCAL AND MAINE NEWS.

The weather continued rather cold, yesterday. In the upper towns indications of snow are strong. Large quantities of ice having come down from above Penobscot Bridge, and the river below being all of floating ice, it was thought best for the Steamer Daniel Webster to drop down to Frankfort yesterday afternoon—from which place she will proceed to Portland at 7 this morning. Her last trip for the season will be made on Monday next, from this city to Frankfort, according to the state of the river.

There are seventy-five or eighty vessels remaining in port, and it was the general opinion yesterday that the river would remain navigable for some days longer at least.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE—GRAND DIVISION.—The Annual Session was held at Stockton, on the 19th ult. The Minutes have been published, and have just come to hand. From these we learn that credentials were presented from 160 representatives. Fifteen or twenty brethren were initiated in the Grand Division. The usual Standing Committees were appointed, and the Annual Report of G W P Thorndike was read. The whole number of Divisions in the jurisdiction is reported at 61. New Divisions have been chartered during the last quarter at Albion, China, Bath, Gardiner, Hallowell, Fairfield, Readfield and Winthrop. The Order generally is reported to be in a good and harmonious condition. The number of contributing members is now 1533.

The January session of the Grand Division will be held at Waterville; the April session at Brunswick; the July session at Bangor; the October session at Portland.

AUGUSTA SHOVELS. One of the most complete establishments for manufacturing iron and steel shovels and spades of all descriptions is now in operation at Augusta, in this State. It is owned and carried on by Mr A D Brown, who, having taken a former establishment of good reputation, has added thereto about $2000 worth of new and greatly improved machinery—making it, as remarked above, probably the most perfect establishment of the kind in New England, if not in the United States. The shovels and spades manufactured by Mr Brown cannot be excelled, we think, in quality; and as to price, dealers will certainly find it for their advantage to ascertain his terms before purchasing elsewhere." See his advertisement.

THE EDITORIAL CORPS. The editorial corps on their way to the Aroostook, just before leaving the steamer W N Rey at Five Islands, to which point the delegation was passed gratuitously, and every attention rendered on the passage by Capt Joseph L Smith, voted a cane to him, and contributed for the purpose. In accordance with this vote Joseph Bartlett, Secretary of the Editorial Corps, has procured an ebony, gold headed cane, and forwarded the same to Cap. Smith, with the following inscription, gratuitously engraved thereupon by Daniel Morris, of the Firm of Tompkins & Morris—"Presented to Capt Joseph L Smith, of the steamer W N Rey, by the members of the Editorial Expedition to the Aroostook, October, 1858."

LAUNCH. Will be launched from Master Tewksbury's yard, in East Hampden, this morning, a fine barque of four hundred tons, owned by Messrs Thomaston & Metcalf, Walter Brown & Son, Seth Emery, G R Smith and Capt S H Snow, who is to command her. She is to load with ice for Liverpool.

THE MORNING PRAYER MEETING, for the present, will be in one of the Vestries of the Hammond Street Church, from eight o'clock to ninety minutes before nine. The room will be thoroughly warmed, and all Christians, of whatever denomination, are invited to attend.

Supreme Judicial Court.

ILLness OF JUDGE DAVIS.—We regret to state that Judge Davis was attacked, on Sunday afternoon, with bleeding at the lungs, South was it to-day, yesterday, that no one was allowed to see him or converse with him. In consequence of this sudden attack, the Supreme Court was adjourned to 3 o'clock this afternoon, and a dispatch was sent to Judge Rice, at Augusta, to come up.—Portland Argus.

THE BOMBA. We have the second number of the Bonanza Bugle. It is sufficient to say that for sharpness of tone and sharpness of wit it is at least an octave higher than its predecessor. The editor is indignant that he was overlooked in the invitations to the Aroostook expedition—but consoles himself with the reflection that he has at least seen a part of a wood took, and no thanks to the committee.—He says the portion which he saw had fall crops, and yielded excellent meat.

MARINE CASUALTY. Barque M'J Colcord, (of Prospect) Milliken, from New York, with 522 tons coal, arrived at Aspinwall 27th.—She struck on the reef when entering the harbor, as before reported, and remained ashore some 48 hours. The aid rendered by the United States frigate Roanoke and ship Saratoga relieved her from her difficulties with little damage. She discharged some coal while on the reef. She will be hove down there, and the amount of damage ascertained.

FATAL ACCIDENT. On Tuesday morning of last week a son of Mr George Hall, of Yarmouth, fell from the scaffolding in his father's barn, and was so severely injured that he died the next night. Mr Hall was about 26 years of age.

ON HAND. A little incident connected with the opening of the new jail for the inspection of our citizens may be worth mentioning.—We are informed that after the visitors had departed on Thursday, and the keeper had locked the door leading into the cells of the prisoners, a lad came to him and told him he had locked some one in. On opening the door, true enough, he found a young man there, and on letting him out the keeper remarked to him that he would probably have him there again soon, or something to that purpose.—His words were prophetic. That night a robbery took place on Summer street, and Saturday afternoon the same young man re-entered that door as the perpetrator of it.—Portland Advertiser.

LAUNCHED from the yard of P S & P Talbot & Co. at East Machias, Nov 6, a brig of about 200 tons, called Carolina, intended for the West India freighting business.

Various Items.

AN ERRAND WHICH MIGHT BE FOLLOWED.—Three of the stockholders of the township of East Missouri, C. W., were recently mulcted in the sum of $1,000 each, for mismanaging the affairs of the town.

THEY ATTENDED TO HIS CASE.—The Albany Statesman, alluding to a candidate for office, who was defeated in that city, says he had such doctoring for office that his friends considered it scratch him!

THE EFFECTS OF REPUBLICAN OSTRACISM.—Gerrit Smith predicted that Morgan would draw off enough Republican votes to defeat him. (Gerrit,) and he did.

NORTHERN ENCROACHMENT.—The editor of the Rochester Union has been shown a cotton plant and a peanut vine, both of which were grown in Rochester.

A POOR REFLECTION.—How does it happen that when a bill becomes due the sceneptor is often mist.

ANTIQUITY OF TARRING AND FEATHERING.—Tarring and feathering, it seems, is a European invention. One of Richard Cœur-de-Lion's ordinances for seamen was, "that if any man were taken with theft or pickery, and thereof convicted, he should have his head pulled and hot pitch poured upon his pate, and upon that the feathers of some cushion or pillow shaken aloft, that he might thereby be known for a thief, and at the next arrival of the ships to any land, be put forth of the company to seek his adventures without all hope of return to his fellows."

SUFFOCATED WITH WORLDLINESS.—Too many persons grow to use their religion as a diver does his bell—a venture down it to the depths of worldliness with safety, and grope for pearls with just as much of heaven's air as will keep him from suffocating and no more; and, souls, alas! as at times in the case with divers, are suffocated with the experiment.

CURIOUS CASE—A COMPLAINANT CONVICTED. At St John, recently at the examination of a case of alleged robbery, wherein one Thompson swore that he was robbed of £50, and also shot in the leg by one Moore Ellis, aided and abetted by Thomas Arrel, the following was part of the reported testimony of Thompson:

Complainant's mother is alive. His father died two years ago. The money (£50) he received from Mr Murphy, Contractor, Halifax, about two or three months ago; all sovereigns. That Murphy marked them with a large cross over the face of each of them, so that he (complainant) would know them. That he took several of these to his mother to get them changed. That she got notes for them from the Halifax Bank, and his father wrote his name across every one of them.

Counsel—Mr Wedderburn.—Can you read or write?

Complainant.—No.

Counsel.—Can your mother?

Com.—No.

Coun.—Can your father?

Com.—Yes.

Coun.—You got your money about two or three weeks ago—and your mother changed part of it for the £1 notes.

Com.—Yes—I swear to that and Mr Murphy marked the sovereigns.

Coun.—Your father put his name in your presence across every note.

Com.—Yes sir, I saw him do it.

Coun.—Now sir, if your father died two years ago, and you got the notes only two or three months ago, how did your father sign his name across them?

Here the complainant became much excited, brandished his stick, and replied stammeringly.

Com.—You are only trying to make me lie. I would not lie if you hung me with a rope—I saw my father sign the notes five years ago, before my mother put them in the Bank. She got them out two months ago.

Counsel.—You saw your father write his name? Yes.

What did he write? John Thompson. You saw it spelt that way? Yes. You swear that? Yes, sir, I do swear it. How can you swear it if you cannot read or write English?

Here another scene of excitement in a tempest in a teapot followed, the witness appearing enraged. He replied—My mother told me so.

Counsel.—But you swore your mother cannot read English.

The only reply to this was a series of murmurs, while the complainant eased his wounded leg by assuming another attitude.

The respondents were of course discharged.

TERRIBLE TORNADO—LOSS OF LIFE. A terrible tornado occurred in East Mississippi, on the nights of the 29th and 30th ult. The Mobile Mercury has the following particulars of its destruction of human life:

"That of Tuesday night occurred about four o'clock P. M., and passed through the western portion of Jasper county. In its course it struck the plantation of Josiah Moody, and the report that reaches us is that every house was swept completely away, and their fragments scattered for along the whirlwind's path, and with them almost the entire families swept into eternity. Of thirteen persons in the house at the time, the lifeless and mangled bodies of nine were picked up by the neighbors who assembled next day. Some of them were carried a great distance along the track, by the awful power of the storm. Two others, the wife of Mr. Moody and his little daughter, were found alive, but so severely wounded that no hope was entertained of their recovery. But one of Mr. Moody's family, a little girl, escaped, who is expected to survive, but with considerable injuries. A man, who seems to have belonged to the family, but was staying there, escaped with so little injury that at daylight he was able to proceed to the house of Mr. Dickinson, who lived the nearest by, with his sad message of death and destruction, and in quest of assistance. There he found the houses all blown down, but no one killed. Mr. Dickinson's house being just on the verge of the storm and not receiving its full force.

A DEACON IN CHURCH.—A good one is told of a worthy deacon in the city of B—, in northern Ohio. The deacon was the owner and overseer of a large pork-packing establishment. His duty was to stand at the head of the scalding trough, watch in hand, to "time" the length of the scald. "Hog in!" when the just slaughtered hog was to be thrown in the trough, and "hog out!" when the watch told three minutes. One week when the press of business compelled the packers to labor unusually hard, Saturday night found the deacon completely exhausted. Indeed, he was almost sick the next morning, when church time came, but he was a leading member, and it was his duty to attend the usual services if he could. He went. The occasion was one of unusual solemnity, as a revival was in progress. The minister preached a sermon well calculated for effect. The peroration was a climax of great beauty. "Assuming the attitude of one intently listening he recited in the breathless audience—

"Hark! they whisper, angels say"—

"Hog in!" came from the deacon's pew in a stentorian voice. The astonished audience turned their attention from the preacher. He went on, however, unmoved—

"Sister spirit, come away!"

"Hog out!" shouted the deacon—"lively four."

This was too much for the preacher and the audience. The latter smiled, some snickered audibly, while a few boys broke for the door, to "split their sides" laughing outside, within full hearing. The preacher was disconcerted entirely—sat down—arose again—pronounced a brief benediction, and dismissed the anything else than solemn-minded hearers. The deacon soon came to a realising sense of his unconscious interlude, for his brethren reprimanded him severely; while the "boys" caught the infection of the joke, and every possible occasion afforded for them an opportunity to say, "Hog in," "Hog out!"

TO THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, 15th.

The ship Plymouth, which arrived at Mobile yesterday, bringing Mr Forsyth, Minister to Mexico has been ordered to Washington.

The Sloop of War St Louis is to be put in commission to supply her place in the Gulf.—Commander Ogden has received his orders, and is to command her.

Orders are to be sent to the naval forces in Central America, having in view the enforcement of the President's anti-filibustering proclamation.

Advices received here from Turkey state that Commodore Lavalette was introduced to the Sultan as the latter was passing from the mosque to his barge, in the presence of the United States Minister and Consul General.—He was afterards received at court and visited at the apartments of the government. The Turkish Admiral who recently visited this country, was remarkably hospitable and attentive. The visit of the Sultan to the steamer Mississippi was the first he ever made to foreign men of war. He expressed his admiration of their beauty, model and superior warlike equipment, and his friendly feelings for the United States. He particularly requested that the President be informed of his visit to the ship.

Despatches received here announce that Mr Sebastian has been unanimously re-elected by the United States Senate from Arkansas.

The sloop of war St Louis has been ordered to the sloop of war St Marys.

Messrs O Donnell and Jno Owens have been appointed sub agents for the Indians in Washington Territory.

Convention of Banks.

BOSTON, 15th.

Eighty-eight New England Banks were represented at a convention held here to-day to consider the subject of a redemption of their notes in specie, caused by the position assumed by the Suffolk Bank in the matter. Gov Cleveland of Conn, presided. The convention was almost unanimous in favor of the Bank of Mutual Redemption as a substitute for the Suffolk and adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That it is the duty of the banks of New England to provide for the redemption of their bills in the city of Boston at their counter in specie, and that the restraints hereafter imposed upon the undue expansion of the currency ought in no degree to be diminished or repaired, but we believe it to be a duty which the redeeming banks may properly exercise to select their own agent to perform this service, having due regard to the convenience of the public.

Resolved, That the Bank of Mutual Redemption, chartered by the Legislature of Massachusetts, for the purpose of redeeming the bills of the New England banks, appears to us to be based upon sound principles; both as regards the equalizing and the economizing of the business imposed upon the redeeming banks in the performance of the public duty.

Fire.

PROVIDENCE, 16.

The theatre was entirely destroyed by fire last night. The wall fell on a low wooden building and crushed it. The total loss is estimated at over $200,000, the insurance was $ 100

Chess Match.

Edward Cotton, the author of an extensively published letter on Mormon life, has also returned en route to her home in England.

New York, 16.

It is reported that a boy named Cullen was brutally murdered this afternoon in Kelsey's alley, Brooklyn, by a man named Callen, and that the murderer was arrested.

Unpleasant Affair.—Mr John Harmon, senior of the St Parish, while on his way home on Saturday night, about 10 o'clock, was accosted on Cumberland, between Elm and Pine streets, by a man who took him by the arm as if to assist him, saying, "How are you John?" In a moment after another man came up, and with the same salutation, took hold of her arm. A Certain Cure for the disease may be found in the use of Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer.

OLIN GIFT, Iowa, May 5, 1855.

Gentlemen—I feel under obligations to you for the benefit I have received from your invaluable Pain Killer. A few days since I received a letter urging me to be on my guard as the cholera was then prevailing in Buffalo, in 1849, advised me to take it. I took it as directed at intervals of fifteen minutes, a few paroxysms ensued, and the next day I had a little weakness, I was well and have been since. Since my recovery I find that several of our citizens have used the Pain Killer and relieved for cholera, pronouncing it good. I therefore take pleasure in recommending it to a still more extensive notice.
